

I slept and I dreamed that life was all joy.
 I woke and saw that life was but service.
 I served and understood that service was joy.

WEIGHING IN ON WARMING

SCHUYLER LINK, CABIN C

Global warming is a real issue in the world today. It is caused by excess CO₂ (carbon dioxide) created by cars, planes, things that use oil or gasoline to run. This excess CO₂ deteriorates the atmosphere letting more sunlight in, which melts large amounts of ice. There are currently two holes in the atmosphere, which are above the earth's poles. If this continues at the some pace, in ten years both polar ice caps will have melted completely covering the earth in water. There are ways this can be prevented --- plant trees, use cars less, and lots more. Go to

This is my rap
 Show me no slack
 We will attack
 Falcons are coming back
 And that's a fact
 We won't even stop for a snack

Shooting from the line

VINCE O'BAR: SENIOR COUNSELOR

DAVID TORRE, CABIN A

Vince O'Bar is our Senior Counselor. For a living, Vince sells robots. It's so cool. He has a wife, Nicholas, David, and Johnny O'Bar. Mr. O'Bar loves being a dad. He comes over here for a week to be with us. He is an awesome counselor. He is so cool. His son David is in our cabin. He is a lot of fun. I like my Senior Counselor.

WOODWORK: A GREAT TIME

AUSTIN PEREZ, CABIN B

The wood work class is the best class in my opinion at LCT. The teachers are Dr. Granberry and Mr. Hebert. It actually has been fun. The cabins are getting to make swords and Camp One gets to name their swords. It is the easiest class to me. So next time you see the teachers say thank you cutting out their vacation time for us to make the wonderful swords.

DUCKS STRIKE ADDERS

JAREN CARRASCO, CABIN D

It was four in the afternoon and it was time to play water basketball. The Ducks vs. the Adders. Since the Ducks live in the water, we knew we were going to win. Then the game started and the Ducks already scored then the Adders scored. When the Ducks got the ball they shot two baskets the score was three to one. Thomas, Nicholas, Luis, Jaren, Charlie, and Alec continuously shot baskets to bring the Ducks to a twenty-one to seven victory.

JUST DUCKY

ALEC SMITH, CABIN D

On Tuesday, the Ducks Dominated! The Morning Run was easily won by us. Sports was the next competition and my cabin split up and played water polo and water basketball. Then at night we won Ghost and we're in first place.

IT GOES BY SO FAST

STEPHEN DUNNE, CABIN C

I'm glad I came to LCT. I can hardly believe it's already Wednesday. I'm having so much fun with my counselors and other campers. The funny thing is I know guys from the other three cabins so it's fun to play against guys you know and to joke who's going to win. I especially like the night games. It's dark and you have to use flashlights. I've liked all the games I have played so far and I bet there will be more.

A-SWORDED COMPETITION

BEN GRANBERRY, CABIN H

During class time, the basketball court is transformed into a knight's gallery. There are hundreds of different designs in swords. Campers are working hard to make the most interesting, original, and elaborate swords to earn points for their cabins. This may be the toughest contest yet!

A BITE OF ADVICE

JOSEPH FORMELLA, CABIN E

Mosquito bites are very irritating. They itch and itch and itch. Scratching it won't help. There is a trick that may help stop the itching. First, locate the mosquito bite. Use your fingernail to press it into the bite. Do this twice in a cross form. Hopefully, the bite will stop itching. If you have any other bites, do the same thing. I hope it works!

CRAZY GHOST

MICHAEL SIMMONS, CABIN E

It's never a full week at LCT until you've played "Ghost." It is a game where the whole cabin runs around the LCT grounds with flashlights and looks for "ghosts" who give you a certain number. Once you have all five numbers in order then you run back to the cafeteria and you win.

Sound easy? Here's the catch: you have to do whatever the ghosts want before you can get your numbers. They made us do crazy things like sing "I'm a Little Tea Pot", and make a human pyramid. Even though we lost all of our dignity, we came in second place, so we're happy.

FOOTBALL IS MY LIFE

NICHOLAS O'BAR, CABIN D

My favorite game is football. It is fun because you get to have a physical contact. You also get to throw the football and kick the football. If you kick it through the goal posts, you get three points. But if you score a touchdown, you get six points.

RUN!

HAND GRENADES!

JOHN ROCHA, CABIN H

Wednesday morning, we (the Hand Grenades) came in first in the morning run again. So far, we have won Monday's, Tuesday's, and now Wednesday's morning run. For some reason, we have a lot of big kids in our cabin. We took advantage of this, but eventually the rangers and everyone else who gives out points started going hard on us. Now, we are barely holding the lead in Camp 2. Our source of points are sports and the morning run. Do you think we can win all the morning runs? I believe it.

EAT BAGELS

CONNOR DIGREGORIO, CABIN G

Finished with your lasagna and veggies and want something new to eat? How about some breakfast? Lately, the bagel and toast has become very popular. Put on some butter, jelly, honey, peanut butter and other things. It's very delicious. Stop by today.

FISH STORY

JAMES POWERS, CABIN F

One day my father and I went to Galveston. We were fishing in the bay with live bait. After catching 14 fish, I knew that my next catch was going to be big. I had a long cast and I was looking for a bottom feeder. It was just my luck. I actually got a bite. Immediately, I set the hook and I knew it was a whale. I screamed, "It's a whale." My dad just frowned but I was reeling in. When the catch broke the surface, I realized it was a watch. When my dad took it off, I realized it wasn't a watch but a Rolex!

3... 2... 1... LIFT OFF!

VINCE JOHNSON, CABIN D

Rocketry is very complicated and fun. First, you must assemble the rocket correctly. In order to do this you must use sand paper to smooth the pieces so they have an amazing flight. Then you must put the pieces in place. In order for the rocket to fly you put the right engines into the bottom. It is now assembled. To launch the rocket you must have a launch pad. Then you put the rocket on the launch pad. Plug in the wires and make sure they do not cross each other. Put the key in and launch it. Then you find it and do it again.
